investing

In Matthew 25:14, Jesus begins telling His followers a story about a man who went on a journey. Before the man left, he gave three of his servants significant portions of his wealth to invest. The first received five talents, the second two and the third servant received one talent. A talent was worth approximately 20 years wages. The man was very wealthy.

The servant who received the five talents invested it well, and it doubled in value. The second servant, likewise, doubled the value of his master's income. The third, however, buried what he had been given because he knew the master to be a hard man, reaping where he did not sow and gathering where he scattered no seed. He was afraid and hid what had been given him in the ground. When the master returned, the servant simply gave back what had been given him. There was no increase to offer the master—no further investment—no additional value or benefit.

The master's evaluation of the third servant's investment strategy was "You wicked and slothful servant!"

The parable reveals a gracious master who gives his servants opportunities to invest what he has given them. What they have isn't theirs, it's his—granted to them for a time for the purpose of investment, so that the return yields an increase. Those who invest his resources, granted to them, will be granted greater responsibility and the joy of their master.

What has God granted you to use for His glory and the advancement and growth of His Kingdom? What is your investment strategy? Is it a shovel? Have you buried what He has given you? Have you been afraid to step out and risk investing what He has invested in you? Have you used it for your purposes? How much increased Kingdom growth and responsibility and joy do we leave on the table simply because we're afraid or lazy? 2 Timothy 1:7 says, "For God has not given us a spirit of timidity (or fear, or cowardice), but of power and love and discipline."

Who's going to do what God wants done? If it's not you, then who?
